

Communication & Journalism Students and Faculty Awards 2023 National Communication Association (NCA) Annual Convention

Top Student Papers

November 16 11:00 AM
Magnolia 3 - Hotel, Ballroom Level

November 17 12:30 PM
Chesapeake 4/5 - Convention Center,
Ballroom Level

Top Thesis Award

November 17 3:30PM
Chesapeake 1 - Convention Center,
Ballroom Level

Book of the Year

Outstanding Book Award

Outstanding Article Award

Communication and the Future Division

Chelsea Roe

"Are we human?" Artificial Intelligence, postcolonialism, and what it means to be Human"

The International and Intercultural Communication Division

Tomide Oloruntobi & Sandra Freda Wood

"Teaching while Black/African: A Collaborative Interrogation of Race and Pedagogy"

Soham Sen

"Interpreting Mauka Mauka as a Call for Freedom in Modi's India"

Master's Education Section

Emily Pollard

"Intersections of Queer and Immigrant Identities in NBC's Superstore"

GLBTQ Communication Studies Division

Shinsuke Eguchi

"Asians loving Asians: Sticky rice homoeroticism and queer politics" Peter Lang.

Asian/Pacific American Communication Studies Division & Caucus

Shinsuke Eguchi

"Asians loving Asians: Sticky rice homoeroticism and queer politics" Peter Lang.

Asian/Pacific American Communication Studies Division & Caucus

David Oh & Shinsuke Eguchi

"Racial privilege as a function of White supremacy and contextual advantages for Asian Americans"