

Live Stream Studio Policy Agreement

Updated 8/14/2024

This policy agreement form constitutes compliance with general procedures and standards regarding the use of the live-stream studio. This service allows students, faculty, and staff (users) to utilize the space and equipment for educational purposes in a classroom setting. Personal or recreational use of the room is highly discouraged.

Policy

The live-stream studio room is available at the Department of Communication and Journalism in room 116. All users are required to check-in and check-out at the AV front desk in room 110. Never leave the room open, even when leaving momentarily; close the door when leaving, and check back in with the AV office staff to be let back in.

Users are responsible for any damage or theft to equipment while in the studio. Users will be charged accordingly based on the cost incurred by the Department of Communications and Journalism to repair the damage or to replace the equipment. Users will be financially responsible for any lost, stolen, or damaged equipment. The equipment costs range from $200 to $7,000.

Course Fees pay for this equipment and only students currently enrolled in a Communication and Journalism course will have access to the studio room. If a class assignment requires using the studio with an individual not enrolled in the department's, C&J users remain responsible for the use of the studio room. Instructors will let their students know when use of the studio is necessary.

Because content may be streamed and published online, profanity and vulgar language are not permitted during shooting. Food and drink are also not allowed in the room. Failure to abide to this rule will result in revoked studio privileges.

Procedure

C&J users are required to fill out and sign the Live Stream Studio Policy Agreement form to use the studio room (attached below). The form must be filled out each semester to confirm that the user has accepted the latest policies, terms, and conditions. Students must have their form signed by their instructor before submission. Digitally signed forms can be emailed to video1@unm.edu, or uploaded to the "Podcast Studio Policy Agreement Form Upload." link on the department's website. Physically signed copies can be turned into the AV office.

After the agreement form has been submitted, users must book and complete an assessment prior to studio use on the department's website through Microsoft Bookings. Only UNM NetID email accounts can book online. The completion of the studio room assessment constitutes understanding of the studio equipment functions, and agreement to proper use of the room. Ensure you follow the instructions posted on the department's website. Users may then book the studio room for sessions on the same website. Users must book 24 hours in advance. If a group of users require use of the studio, only one member needs to book online for the whole group. Failure to comply with these sets of instructions may deter use of the studio room.

Eligibility

Students must be registered for at least one Communication and Journalism course to use the studio. Students and faculty must fill out this form each semester. Students are given this form by their instructor that requires them to use the equipment for the class.
